

Reading curriculum

Each week in Key stage 1, in addition to phonics we have five 15-minute reading lessons where we study a picture book or short novel in depth alongside a breadth of texts to ensure pupils have a varied reading 'diet'. Alongside the aim of developing language comprehension and reading fluency in these lessons, we also aim to enthuse pupils about reading.

In Key Stage 2 we have two 30-minute reading lessons and three 45-minute reading lessons. On two days of the week, we study the class novel in further depth, on the remaining three days, we study a range of different texts to ensure pupils have a wide reading 'diet'. This includes poetry, playscripts, novels from different genres, non-fiction, song lyrics and picture books. Alongside the aim of developing language comprehension and reading fluency in these lessons, we also aim to enthuse pupils about reading. By providing a wide range of reading material and a chance to engage in productive discussions about books, we try to develop a love of reading in all pupils.
